Please accept my comments as a Koala Strategy Submission as my comments are, I believe, helpful. A lot of personnel who help write up strategies are not necessarily familiar with the "on the ground" situation of Koala's, what they eat (ie: what species of eucalypt), how often they browse, how far they travel or even how many sightings of actual koalas exist. On the South East Coast of NSW where the timber industry is one of the main livelihoods for a lot of residents, there is an organisation called South East Timber Association (SETA) and I would like to suggest that before any decisions are ratified and put into place that conversations be held with their Secretary, Mr. Peter Rutherford, who is very much "in the know" where koalas in our area are and history of koalas in the area. You can use the SETA email address to contact him, viz: admin@southeasttimberassociation.com. Thank you - I attach a copy of the SETA submission as I endorse the contents.
