Bronte Catchment Project Citizens Jury
Confidentiality Policy

All information gathered as part of the Citizens Jury process will be treated as confidential and anonymous. No information will be disclosed or sold for commercial purposes.

No individual household will be identified in any report or other project material.

In general, all participants (including the Bronte Catchment Project Team, jurors, expert witnesses, observers and council staff) are required to abide by and sign a confidentiality agreement.

- No participants are permitted to discuss the jury deliberations with other individuals.
- No participants are permitted to disclose details of the content of the process to other jurors or to other individuals.