Subject: Native Vegetaton Regulation Review

I am a concerned landowner asking for the complete REPEAL of the Native Vegetation laws. The Regulatory Impact Statement needs to be redone properly, taking into account the Full costs of the Native Vegetation laws.

Farmers are so over regulated now . We are not treated fairly as guardians of our land and producers who feed this country and also many people of the world. We are treated like vandals of destruction. We cannot remove a single native tree or regrowth (1990) to continue our production.....this is called BROADSCALE clearing under present regulations, for which we can be fined huge sums of money or be jailed! There are so many pages of rules and regulations to read and comply with that it is no wonder landowners are suicidal and depressed. Where is our Constitutional protection of property rights? We are not compensated in any way for the property value that is taken away from us as landowners that compliance to these current regulations require. Our assets are no longer ours , but taken by stealth.

Yours sincerely,
Evelyn Dew....(landowner, farmer, mother of 4, grandmother of 10.)
