

S00071 – Haylee Rockwell

Hello, thank-you for the opportunity to discuss the above proposed changes.

You have likely already considered this, but I will raise it just in case.

My suggestion is in regard to the risk assessment. You have in this version a risk rating, but there is nowhere to add control measures that owners will agree to put in place which would then lead to a revised risk rating.

A dog can cause much more harm than a snake. It is the owner that puts in control measures (Love, contact, healthy diet, a good home etc.) that reduces the likelihood of an attack. I think owners are a far higher risk than these beautiful creatures and that owner accountability should be considered in the risk assessments.

If you have any questions regarding this suggestion, please feel free to contact me.

Thank-you.
