

S00061 – Jason Hodges

Have done this, but I must say considering the latest findings on animal extinctions in Australia and your unacceptable land clearing laws this government has a lot to be ashamed of. I do not believe the welfare of either the wildlife or decent people who actually care about something other than money and exploiting others is even a consideration.