

S00115 – Jeffrey Luck

I received a letter. Have Your Say ON Proposed Changes To Wildlife Licencing, I thank you for a chance to reply My name is Jeff Luck and I have been involved in non-commercial roo culling for a long time. I found the website very difficult to negotiate. My thoughts for improvements would be as follows. 1.. the tags that I have been attaching to the roos are usually the first thing to disappear even before the roo decomposes usually taken by foxes eagles pigs etc., possibly a no tag system would suffice. 2...It seems a waste to leave an animal and not be allowed to have that meat to eat or to feed my dog with this wonderful protein, I understand that taking this roo meat for commercial reasons would be a can of worms and this situation should be avoided at all costs. 3... the conditions saying only two shooters under the current system can operate has merit safety first is paramount. 4... Having to go through a drawn out and time sapping procedure if you're a property owner would be frustrating at least I hope this can be improved. Lastly my heart goes out the men and women trying to make a living on the land, with the very dry conditions and cold weather it must put people in a bad and frightening place. Landowners are reluctant to spend time and money to put in feed such as oats as it disappears to animals such as roos and little to none goes to their stock.
