

S00091 – John Donnellan

I tend to agree with what you are trying to do. I do not agree to me having to get a license to sell the small amount of birds that i breed. The system you have at present is a shambles and cannot be admin. properly. I give birds to nursing homes, young kids etc.. This practice will stop. It seems to me the people behind this have never had pets and are out of touch, and you are turning people against you. I am sorry but at 76 you seem to be trying to take a big part of my life away, please consider an other approach , Thanks
