Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment on the proposed coastal management bill. This bill is unacceptable in its current form. It is overly complex. It has been drafted with little or no public consultation. It takes away property rights from beachfront owners who legally purchased real estate, often paying a premium price because of the location of their house. How on earth can you fine an Australian Citizen $5M for attempting to protect their property from impending storm damage? Why would you allow coastal erosion to destroy small, often beautiful coastal villages that provide a local tourism industry? This bill is harmful both economically and socially, and should be withdrawn immediately, then redrafted with genuine community consultation. Faithfully Yours Sean Stuchbery
