This map describes the topography of the region, by simulating the illumination of the landscape as expected with the sun in the north western sky.